- I have questions about mentorship, please contact me for further discussion.

Explanation of motivations:

1. Accountability – Being willing to take responsibility for actions and to be held to account. This may be motivated by desiring to form good regular habits (Ex. Bible study, prayer, improving relationships, diet, exercise, service, evangelism, etc.) OR a desire to reduce poor habits (Ex. Poor attitude, gossip, not sleeping enough, pornography, alcohol, illegal drugs, etc.)
2. Biblical knowledge – Desiring to learn more of and about the Bible. This may be motivated by wanting to know what the Bible has says about specific subjects, going through the Bible in full, God’s Biblical characteristics, etc.
3. Spiritual growth – Desiring to be have a closer walk with God, partaking more in spiritual disciplines, taking more Godly actions. This may be motivated by a desire to have a fuller prayer life, having more inner peace, learning about being generous, understanding how to live in a Godly way and doing so.
4. Servant leadership – How to lead a ministry, start a Godly initiative, operate in an area of passion, learn about leadership calling. This may be motivated by gaining confidence to be effective (or more effective) as a leader.
5. Life coaching – Walking closely with someone through life, possibly through a difficult transition. This may be motivated by someone struggling with current or upcoming circumstances that is hoping to gain encouragement and perspective from someone who has experienced similar events. This can be career or job changes, changes (struggles) in close relationships (recent move, marriage, divorce, aging parents, death), change in children’s life (new child, growing child, teenager, adult child), struggling with current circumstances, etc.
6. Other – Motivations can be varied. Try to define your motivation for a mentorship relationship:
